Call for Presenters

June 13, 2016

The Utah Broadband Outreach Center is looking for creative, engaging, and knowledgeable presenters who can share their expertise and experience with Utah's broadband stakeholders. This year, we will stray from the format of our previous Broadband Summits. Instead of organizing breakout sessions and conference tracks, we will share one exceptional presentation space to learn from the best of the best.

Given this new format, we are motivated to create a fun and educational shared experience. We are looking for presenters who can deliver great content with an interesting perspective in 20 minutes or less.

Please send us your brief pitch addressing the following questions:

1. Who are you? Tell us about yourself and share the qualifications that make you a great presenter.
2. What's the topic? Describe your presentation topic or theme, and explain the educational value of your presentation.
3. What will it look like? Tell us what kind of visuals you'll incorporate into your presentation. Please send along examples for us to reference if available.
4. What's the X factor? Describe the entertainment value of your presentation. Will you be sharing your creativity, humor, or simply some great information? What will a diverse group of broadband stakeholders get out of your presentation?

Questions and presentation proposals can be sent to Kelleigh Cole at kcole.utah.gov. If you don't have an idea, but have a recommendation for a great presenter we'd also love to hear from you.

Please call (801) 538-8831 for additional feedback and information.
